JOHN COX is Principal Horn of the Oregon Symphony Orchestra, and has been a member of the OSO since 1982. He has soloed with the Oregon Symphony Orchestra, West Coast Chamber Orchestra, the Marylhurst Orchestra, Pacific University Orchestra, Portland Wind Ensemble and the Evansville Philharmonic Orchestra. Mr. Cox has performed with Chamber Music Northwest, the Eugene Bach Festival, as a guest with the Empire Brass Quintet and was invited to accompany Mikhail Baryshnikov at Expo '86. During the upcoming summer Mr. Cox will perform with the Mainly Mozart Festival in San Diego and will return with Chamber Music Northwest.

Before joining the Oregon Symphony, he was Associate Principal Horn of the Orquesta Sinfonica Municipal of Caracas, Venezuela, and was third horn of the Evansville Philharmonic for five seasons. He holds the M.M. degree from Boston University and the B.M.E. from the University of Evansville.

In addition to playing the horn, Mr. Cox also repairs, rebuilds and modifies horns. Having apprenticed in a repair shop at age 15, he learned the ins and outs of the instrument mechanically. He frequently plays on an instrument of his own making, and has modified all his horns to "custom fit". Other interests include travel to the northern reaches of Canada, auto repair and reading.
